

A new dawn: Brussels rebranded
After dark! Graffiti art gets professional

WIN
free prize
(look at page 65)

ARTS • PREVIEWS

Graffiti

Hell'o Monsters. The interests and talents of these four upstanding young street artists from Wallonia meshed so flawlessly right from the start that their collaborative creations looked as if they were made by a single individual. They discovered one another at art school, formed a quartet, and after working together for all of one year were invited to leave their ephemeral marks on the walls of Bozar's foyer. One year later, this exhibition finds their darkly humorous, subversively childlike world views expressed in meticulously executed ink drawings, painted murals, brightly painted wall sculptures and a cheerful-seeming installation undercut by a sinister slant.

Think.21, 21 Rue du Mail/
Maliestraat, Brussels, until May 17,
Tuesday to Saturday, 12.00 to 18.30,
tel 02.537.81.03,
www.think21gallery.com